

BARNBOOTS presents
THE ART OF HORSES
THE EQUINE AS INSPIRATION

Workshops with Debbie Bradley Photography

A rare opportunity for individuals with an interest in horses as a subject to experience the subtlety of the moods, emotions and sensitivity of equine intelligence & capture it photographically amidst the beauty of the rural Muskoka landscape.

These unique photography workshops include:

- an interactive session exploring the fundamentals of equine movement & communication; experiential learning with the horse as teacher
- instruction & guidance in the art of photography, digital / film camera operation, specific settings & how it relates to capturing the best equine images
- lunch and refreshments (limited provisions for allergy restrictions, sorry!)
- guided studio time to explore and photograph the majestic equine; varied themes as a focus for each day
- the provision of additional equine related subjects of interest (example: saddles, bridles, bits, harnesses, carriages, and sleighs) for further artistic inspiration
- availability of networking & post-workshop sharing, to showcase favorite images & obtain creative feedback
- membership to the BARNBOOTS' Open Studio Group, offering return on-site privileges on select dates for further creative opportunities.

Workshops can be taken individually as one day sessions or as a two day event. Limited registration for each workshop allows for effective small group sessions. Minimum registration is required for each workshop to operate efficiently.
